Topped and deseeded raw capia peppers for roasting factories. A major focus of our seasonal supply.

Product	Red capia (kapya) peppers
Preparation	Tops cut off · seeds removed
Delivered state	Raw · ready for roasting
Typical seasonal focus	Late August · early September
Customers	Roasting factories

Prepared for roasting.

We supply raw capia peppers with the tops cut off and seeds removed, ready to enter your roasting process. Preparation is built into the supply brief.

Plan the seasonal programme.

Our seasonal focus is around late August and early September. Share your expected intake, daily or weekly volume and delivery destination so we can align the programme with your factory.

Agree the line requirements.

Pepper size, maturity, preparation criteria, packing and delivery timing are discussed with your technical and procurement teams. Confirm the actual supply window for each season.

Discuss product, volume, period and destination with our team.
