A clear focus on the raw material.

AGG supplies compact, round iceberg lettuce as raw material for professional fresh-cut operations. Our supply planning starts with the characteristics your processing line needs.

Your specification comes first.

Head characteristics, outer-leaf removal, target weight, packaging and handling requirements should be discussed together with your technical team.

Plan beyond one delivery.

Share your expected weekly volume, intended processing use and supply period. We can then discuss a programme drawing on our own production, growers and sourcing network.

Discuss product, volume, period and destination with our team.
