Onions

Onion supply can be discussed according to your product and programme requirements.

Product	Dry bulb onions
Intended use	Professional markets & processing
Variety & calibre	Confirm in your requirement
Packing & availability	Agreed per programme

Define the product you need.

Tell us your preferred onion type, calibre and intended use. Processing requirements and fresh-market preferences can differ, so the programme starts with your specification.

Packing and handling matter.

Preferred packing, destination and handling requirements are considered together. Share the format your operation uses so we can include it in the supply discussion.

Connect product and timing.

Combine your product brief with expected volume and the required period. This gives our team the information needed for a relevant supply discussion.

Discuss product, volume, period and destination with our team.
